

RIPA AND DATA PROTECTION TRAINING

Course Outline

This course provides a detailed application of the law for using powers pursuant to the Regulation of Investigatory Powers Act to carry out surveillance and investigation. It also provides for a thorough understanding of data protection and the use of personal information during investigations, as well as the application of the freedom of information and environmental information regulations.

Course Aims

This course aims to provide a full overview of investigatory powers that are available to authorised enforcement officers when carrying out surveillance.

Course Objectives

By the end of the training candidates will be able to:

- Understand the principles and law relating to RIPA, Data Protection and Human Rights
- Develop knowledge of the requirements for applying RIPA
- Learn how to collate evidence in order to obtain authorisation under RIPA
- Demonstrate how the law works in practice and apply to specific roles and responsibilities Highways Act 1980

Who Would Benefit from Attending this Course?

This course is suitable for any authorised officer in an enforcement role, conducting investigations or gathering evidence to assist in preparing a case for prosecution.

Course Duration

One day

This course can be run in-house, or the hosting can be shared between local authorities to keep costs down.

Discounts are available for Expert & Exemplar Network Members. For a quote or for more information, please contact us by emailing training@keepbritaintidy.org or call us on 01942 612 625.

Did you know that Keep Britain Tidy also runs The Enforcement Academy? A course that provides all the knowledge, skills and tools required when working in frontline enforcement.